

Speaker Biography

Rebecca E. Duggan focuses her practice in insurance coverage litigation, but also has broad experience with insurance defense and liability issues. She has experience representing insurers from pre-suit through trial, and if necessary, appeal, depending on the needs and desires of each client. She also has extensive experience handling coverage insurance disputes in the London market involving complex issues of contract formation, policy interpretation, policy defenses, and dispute resolution.

Following law school, she practiced for several years in Chicago in the realm of insurance coverage and insurance defense handling cases involving medical malpractice, general tort litigation, construction negligence, premise liability and other direct negligence actions.